

Proverbs Daily Dose of Wisdom Devotional

Chapter 29 By Penny Thrasher and Cindy Lewis

July 29, 2015

Throughout the book of Proverbs “right” living is encouraged. It is the foundation of a godly life. In chapter 29, Solomon points out in verse after verse the results of not living a godly life. He shows the downfall of man, the infiltration of sin, and the destruction that unrighteous living brings. He also reveals the fruit of living “right” – according to the guidance of God’s Word.

As we read this chapter, we can plainly see living an unrighteous life leads to destruction resulting in:

- stubbornness
- refusing to accept discipline
- greediness
- selfishness
- anger
- strife
- no peace
- lack of integrity
- vengefulness
- disgrace
- conflict

On the other hand, we are shown the results of living rightly and using God’s wisdom:

- joy
- stability
- gladness
- care
- calmness
- peace
- revelation
- justice
- discipline
- delight
- honor

- safety

We are given a free will. We make the choice every single day to live according to God's Word, righteously. It is our own choice. It's my choice. It's your choice. In looking at the results that come from righteous living and the destructive behaviors that come from unrighteous living in our lists above, I choose to live the way God leads. Think about it. Think about your choices. Which way do you choose?

We pray you are encouraged by chapter 29 of Proverbs. Choose life!
