

Proverbs Daily Dose of Wisdom Devotional

Chapter 2 By Cindy Lewis

July 2, 2015

Since Kevin and I have been married we have prayed to have wisdom, knowledge, and understanding: God’s wisdom and direction, the knowledge to walk in His wisdom, and the understanding to “get it” so that we can walk in God’s wisdom every single day of our lives. When we have that “ah-ha” moment with God we gain the revelation of His Word; the realization that He is speaking to us about a particular thing. God is so faithful when we seek Him.

From childhood, we desire to “be good” and to “what is right.” Wisdom puts us on that path helping us to know God, to know the right choices to make, and to act rightly. Our whole lives are affected by the wisdom we “get” and the related actions we choose to make. The happiness and joy we experience is related to our attitude. When my “mindset” is on God and His ways, I have an invigorated, energized, and positive sense that trickles into my everyday life.

I encourage you to read Proverbs chapter two today. The New Century Version is very good to provide understanding. Make a concerted effort to gain God’s wisdom, knowledge, and understanding.

Cindy Lewis has a calling to teach. She is a natural administrator and organizer. Using her gifts creatively with KIDS' Ministries at One Church, Midwest Agape Chapel, and again at The Living Church, she has been blessed to coordinate and build the programs, writing, directing and choreographing children's events, puppets, plays, human videos and more. Before moving to Lakeside, Arizona to pastor, she also worked at Midwest Agape Chapel as the Financial Director for 8 years and for Pleasant Valley Youth Ranch for 6 years. Special events and productions are a passion of hers as another avenue to share the gospel. She has written numerous skits, commercials, celebrations, etc. for a wide variety of holidays and events. Cindy also worked at Oral Roberts University as the Coordinator of Special Events and & the administrator of the ORU Spirit Program until June of 2011. Cindy joined the Bureau of Land Management with the Dept. of the Interior as a Land Law Examiner in 2012. When Cindy teaches, she often uses creative methods and incorporates a variety of media in her presentations and messages to enhance and inspire the hearer. A long-time dream was accomplished when Cindy graduated with her bachelor's degree in Organizational Leadership from Northeastern State University in May 2015. She has studied leadership, management, marketing, and social media marketing in depth. Both Pastors Kevin and Cindy have a heart for people and a strong desire to see them live an overcoming life.
